Comforting Words

Many a Norway Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Norway readers.

"I suffered for five years from back-ache," says Hiram Lovejoy, Myrtle Ave., South Paris, Me. "For days at a time any sudden move caused added pain. The secretions from my kidneys were too frequent in passage and my rest was broken at night. I lost health and strength and felt discouraged. When one of the family asked me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so. I began to improve at once. It was not long before my kidneys were in good working order."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lovejoy had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 33-39

An Arraignment.

The Power that holds the stars in place Took pains to make the human race. He, who holds the ocean in his coil, Created each immortal soul. He gave the mighty thunder voice— Gave us the liberty of choice. He, who holds the seasons in his hand, Gave each a free unbiased mind. But as He holds the firmament, He shaped each soul's environment. He made the sun to shine by day To light us on our onward way. He drops the curtains of the night To give us rest for our delight; Not even with Christ crucified. And gave the "music of the spheres" To satisfy our listening ears; Gave us dominion over all, His earthly treasures great or small. And yet we are not satisfied, Not even with Christ crucified. But so the nations are at war, But only God can tell what for. CORA M. W. GREENLEAF.

Summer Is Going.

Dear heart, the summer draweth to a close; Pensive, I read the signs on every side. Blown down the hillside by the breeze of the rose And brown the uplands once with flowers' pride.

The corn is waving, waving, Annie dear, And feathered birds make trial of their wings; For last year's grain the hills are dull and bare, The singing woodland brook no longer sings.

The Katana rasps to the moon's pale rays, And goldenrod gleams in the sunset glow. The sun moves south and shorter grows the day, The farther garners wait his acres yield.

And you who dwell in cities, too, may know That summer's well-known bloom begins to pale. A certain sign you see where'er you go— One sign that tells the melancholy tale: "Straw Hats, 75 Cents."

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES They are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the following statement: That one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.

According to this it would seem that a medicine for the kidneys, possessing real healing and curative properties, would be a blessing to thousands.

Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who prepare Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the well known kidney, liver and bladder remedy, claim that judging from evidence received from druggists everywhere, who are constantly in touch with their customers, and also indisputable proof in the form of grateful testimonial letters from thousands of reliable citizens, this preparation is remarkably successful in sickness caused by kidney and bladder troubles. Every interesting statement they receive regarding Swamp-Root is investigated and no testimonial is published unless the party who sends it is reported of good character. They have on file many sworn statements of recoveries in the most distressing cases. They state that "Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is mild and gentle in its action and its healing influence is soon noticed in most cases."

Swamp-Root is purely an herbal compound and Dr. Kilmer & Co. advise all readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—50c. and $1.00. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle.

When writing be sure and mention the Norway Weekly Oxford Co. Advertiser.

FRYEBURG.

Mrs. Joseph Andrews. Mrs. Judith Walker Andrews died Saturday, Aug. 29th, at 36 Rutland Square, Boston, the house which had been her home for nearly 50 years. She was born April 26th, 1826, at Fryeburg, the daughter of Peter and Abigail (Swan) Walker. She was married to Gen. Joseph Andrews at Boston in 1856. They lived for a time in Salem, but in 1863 removed to Boston, and in 1864 bought the house in Rutland Square.

Gen. Andrews died in 1869. He had been mayor of Salem, and a brigadier-general in the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, and was in command at Fort Warren when the Civil War opened.

After Mrs. Andrews' removal to Boston with her husband, she became a member of the South Congregational Unitarian church, of which Edward Everett Hale was minister, and soon took a leading part in its activities.

As president for 30 years of its Friendly Society, her influence was felt not only in the general neighborhood work and the special work at the South End Industrial School, which the church helped to support, but most of all in the countless kindly offices of the Friendly Society, which bound together all who were connected with the church in relations that were exceptional.

Her close and sympathetic. In 1886 she was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary Conference for assistance to hold this office until 1890, when the Auxiliary Conference was reorganized as the National Alliance, and she was elected for the year 1890-91 as its first president.

Meanwhile, the Pundita Ramabai had come to this country for assistance in meeting the needs of the child widows in India and it was chiefly through Mrs. Andrews' influence and powers of organization that the Ramabai Association was formed, with a membership representing many denominations. For a long time she was the chairman of the Executive Committee of this association, and when some of the methods of the school in India were in question, and difficulties had arisen through local opposition, Mrs. Andrews spent the winter of 1893-94 in a visit to the school, and overcame these difficulties, which others who had made the attempt previously had failed to remove.

Her distinguished presence and persuasive speech no doubt helped in bringing her the large measure of success which she achieved in whatever she undertook. But the secret of her influence and effectiveness was to be found chiefly in her indefatigable perseverance and energy, and in the peculiar warmth and sincerity and loyalty of the sympathies and affections which inspired and sustained her. Only so could she have served the community as she did in public ways, and at the same time have made many and many a life grateful for an intimate, personal helpfulness that was as generous as it was unselfish.

Of her three sons two survive, Clement Walker Andrews, librarian of the John Greer Library, Chicago; and Joseph Andrews, cashier of the Bank of New York in the city of New York.

Horace D. Andrews, a mining engineer, died in 1910. A brother, Dr. Clement A. Walker, was well known as a physician in Boston; and another brother, Galen C. Walker, was for six years deputy of the State Prison in Charleston.

BROWNFIELD. Fred Meserve is having his house shingled and repaired.

A. W. Taylor, principal of the High school, boards at Chas. Harmon's; Mrs. Mabel Stanley who teaches the grammar school with her cousin, Mrs. J. B. Danforth, and Miss Mabel Gile.

Primary teacher at Will Bennett's. Holmes' notes ten cents per dozen at the ADVERTISER Office, sent by mail on receipt of money.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weir of Cambridge, Mass., are guests of the Will Johnsons.

Buckfield and Humorist Literary. Seba Smith, known to the world as "Major Jack Downing," was born in Buckfield, Sept. 14, 1792. He died in Patchogue, (Long Island) N. Y., in July, 1862, in his 77th year.

His wife, 22 years later, was living in an inland town in North Carolina, hale, hearty and still handsome at 85. She was known as Elizabeth Oaker Smith and the author of the "Sinless Child," and other literary productions of merit.

9 Real Reasons

1. They restore weak muscles, prevent and cure flatfoot by exercise.
2. You can walk 10 miles daily with comfort and ease.

9. Thousands of cases of foot weakness and flatfoot has been cured by the use of this shoe ONLY.

ACTUAL CURE MADE BY GROUND GRIPPER SHOES

The above patient living in Springfield, Mass., was suffering with Flat Foot and Bunions, a local doctor advised her to wear "Ground Grippers." The Doctor kept a careful diagram of her foot from April 19th to July 10th and the above drawing is reproduced from his records.

E. W. BURT & CO., Inc. Makers and Patentees

In so-called "flat-foot," plates of steel or other material are given, which serve as mechanical braces, which give a push or lift to neutralize a defect. Such a measure must be inefficient, not only giving no cure but at best only permanent dependence—one error neutralizing another for a time. Those who get well after the use of such plates do so because the cause of the foot collapsing is temporary and disappears. All other cases are permanently enslaved.

A tilted or twisted plate does not tilt or twist the foot; but on account of its arbitrary fixity only makes the foot try continuously to get away from it, and causes painful spasm. This leads to the question—

Why do some cases get better wearing plates?

Because, in certain cases, the feet work so hard to get away from the plates that they develop muscular power, and strengthen the ligaments. To get a result by this method, however, is indirect and illogical. There is much work and discomfort with little result.

Casts are taken of so-called "flat-foot." Casts impress the sufferer. They have no real bearing on the treatment. Proper walking, the strengthening of the feet, the restoration of foot and balance are accomplished alone by proper shoeing, proper muscular stimulation and mental direction. Right shoeing allows one to walk rightly—it does not make one walk rightly.

Proper walking is the proper exercise for all the waking hours. Proper walking will restore the stiffened feet and every minute of proper walking helps the feet to become soft and flexible as they were in childhood. Plates and stiff shoes are made because of the belief that the foot has a fixed arch, whereas the truth is that the foot has the power of arching. The corrective arch does not restore arching, but only holds up the bones like a crutch.

Under the present system of market-ing farm products, it is possible and often occurs that people in the part of the United States literally starve for the want of a product, while the same product in another part of the nation is wasting for want of a market.

Recollection of Early Settlers Of Greenwood.
By Prof. A. E. Verrill of Yale University.

Infectious Diseases and Doctors.

There was then no doctor nearer than Locke's Mills or Norway Village, eight to twelve miles away, over rough and very hilly roads, often almost impassable in winter. Few or no precautions were taken against contagious diseases, especially among children even by the doctors, for they went from house to house, where there were sick children, without the slightest idea of disinfection, and they carried the germs of measles, scarlet fever, chicken pox, mumps, etc., to about all the children in the town.

Old ladies of the neighborhood were the only nurses available, aside from the mothers, who were often worn out with work and watching, for several children were often sick in the house at the same time. This was the case in my father's family on Peak Mountain, when all the children were sick at the same time with several different diseases. Bacteria, "disease-germs," and "microbes" were not then known.

Nor were the sick rooms disinfected, except rarely and imperfectly. Flies were always abundant in the houses, owing to the proximity of the barns and stables, and no doubt the drinking waters from the wells and springs were often infected during epidemics, which were frequent. Fly-screens and fly-traps were rarely used, and no one ever suspected that flies were the constant carriers of infectious diseases. Fortunately malaria did not occur there.

It is not strange that many of the children died young, or in infancy. But yet, in spite of all this, many of these early settlers reared large families, and many lived to great age; sometimes to over 100 years. They were probably examples of "survivals of the fittest." Certainly there was a constant "struggle for existence."

The great ages attained by many of the early settlers, both men and women, not only in Greenwood, but also in Norway, Albany, Paris, and many adjacent towns, are very remarkable. Many lived to 90 years and upwards, and not a few became 100 years old, or more. These were often women who had borne ten to twelve children and had worked hard all their lives.

The foods used by the early settlers were not, for the most part, the kinds advocated by most doctors and dietitians of the present day. They lived largely on fat salt pork and boiled potatoes; fried ham and eggs; bacon; sausages; baked beans; brown "rye and Indian meal" bread; samp; corn-meal mush, often served with molasses or maple syrup; hulled corn with milk; beef and mutton occasionally; and chicken when they had company. Hot saleratus biscuits were much more common than raised white bread.

The doctors nearly always gave calomel to all their patients, or else some other violent purgative, such as "pink and sand," or "jalap," etc. Copious bleeding was very frequent, and leeches were in common use.

Perhaps the herbs and roots were more useful than the calomel and bleedings, in many cases.

EATING-HOUSE ROW.

The "eating-house row" was running at full speed during the three days of the fair and had a large crowd each day.

The Congregational church of South Paris served cold roast pork, hot gravy, sweet and Irish potatoes, baked beans, brown bread, pickles and pastry. Mrs. James S. Wright is president of the circle and was assisted by the ladies of the society.

The ladies of the circle of the Second Congregational church, with Mrs. H. P. Jones president, served baked beans, cold meats, squash, apple, mince and pumpkin pies, doughnuts, cheese and coffee. At the lunch counter was sold sandwiches, cakes and coffee. The hall was prettily decorated with evergreen, dahlias and hydrangeas.

The Deering Memorial church of South Paris occupied the third house in the row, and served breakfasts, dinners and suppers, and the menu included cereals, eggs, toast, doughnuts, cheese, baked beans, salads, pickles, pies, sandwiches, also cold ham, cold meat, cake, etc. Mrs. S. C. Ordway is president of the Aid, and was assisted by the ladies of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Twitchell and Al O. Twitchell of Oxford served oysters, baked beans and pastry. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edwards of Norway and Mrs. Flora Cummings and a corp of young ladies as waitresses. The Good Cheer Society of South Paris served baked beans, salads, pastry and coffee. Grace Thayer is president of the Good Cheer Society.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lovejoy of South Paris occupied their booth here for the eighteenth year. An addition of five feet was added to the building this year, which was a much needed improvement. They attended the State Fair and did a fine business there. The menu included meats of all kinds, pastry, etc. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lovejoy, Mrs. Charles Wentzel, Pearl Ladd, Annie Wheeler and Mrs. Jas. Whittemore of South Paris.

At the Wellington Twitchell house, roast beef, roast lamb and a large variety of vegetables were served. The chef was Joe Jock. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Twitchell were their two sons, Harry and Percy, and Mrs. Addie Hill, Mrs. Sadie Power, Mrs. Josie Twitchell, Mrs. Hattie Rowe, Ida Lowell, Ruth Daniels for assistants.

BEEF OXEN.

There were three oxen entered for beef at the fair. Stephen Wren, Westleigh, Mason, L. W. Whitman, South Paris, and R. K. Morrill & Son, Norway. Working Oxen and beef, 5 years old and under were by R. H. Fleck of Harrison, C. S. Hayes of Oxford and E. F. Richards of South Paris. One pair of year-olids and under 5 years was exhibited by Alexander Stearns of Paris and two yoke by Alfred King of South Paris.

SWINE OUT OF THE COMMON.

The Chester bear and pigs belonging to Charles F. Millett of Norway attracted a large crowd. These were bred in Michigan and are bred for ham. His 6 months old pig will dress over 400 pounds. This special variety is considered 50 per cent better for large shoulders than any other variety and was considered the best in New England. Mr. Millett dressed one a short time ago that weighed over 600 pounds and the hams weighed 50 pounds each. He had a litter of pigs on exhibition and took orders for several of them.

JUST LOOKING AROUND.

The grounds were ably policed by Charles Boober, Horace Kimball and Alonzo Hall of Norway; officers William Bretton and Edward Pearson of Lewiston and Sheriff Frothingham's deputies, John Titus, South Paris; Arthur Landry, E. M. Besse, Rumford; Harry Hastings, Bethel; Samuel Eaton, Oxford; E. G. Libby. Several imbibers were escorted from the grounds and one who offered was handcuffed and taken to the County Jail. Crooks were spotted by the deputies and arrested.

Homer Truman won considerable fame among the local sports Wednesday, when he accepted the five dollar challenge offered by the Urric Dionne Athletic Show to the person who would meet Gurney, the 145 pound Bangor wrestling champion, and remain in the game for five minutes. Mr. Truman donned the regulation tights and the bout that followed was fast, furious and exciting. No fall was counted in the allotted time so Truman walked off with the purse. He also won two other bouts with the champion the same afternoon. The entry clerks were "kept humming" till the entries closed. They were Mrs. Mary Wheeler, Mrs. Elizabeth Elderly and Miss Davis.

Between 12,000 to 15,000 persons paid admission to the grounds Thursday. Several hundred automobiles were crowded into the space within the trotting course. This might be considered a good last day crowd, considering so large an attendance for the middle day.

William Breton and Edward Pearson of Lewiston police force were the special officers Wednesday and Thursday. The total force, namely, officers H. C. Kimball, Lon. Hall, Chas. Barber, Hiram Wiles and several deputies handled the big crowds efficiently during the three days.

Dr. H. F. Abbott of Rumford Print attended the fair Wednesday and Thursday. The doctor is well preserved and scarcely shows his eighty years. He informed The Advertiser that his practice of medicine has extended over a period of fifty years, so his patients have numbered among the thousands.

On July 25, 1861, he enlisted in the 2nd Maine Vol. as musician and played an A flat, rotary valve horn during the struggle. The doctor laughingly remarked that his greatest sin committed in life was being a Democrat and having voted that ticket from Buchanan to Wilson.

W. H. Porter who holds the Post came for being the oldest gentleman in Norway was doing the fair Wednesday. Mr. Porter is nearly ninety-three years of age and has a remarkably well preserved memory. He stated to the Advertiser man that he attended the first exhibition of the Oxford County Agricultural Association held in the streets of Norway village, seventy-two years ago. At that time it was an exceedingly small show. The cattle were tied up along Main street and the hall exhibits consisting largely of vegetables, butter and cheese were displayed in the Bartlett store on Main street. The Association members to the number of thirty celebrated the event with a real big feed at the Elms House, marching up the street to the music of file and drums to their place at the heavily loaded tables.

After this the Cattle Show was held regularly in So. Paris, Paris Hill, Turner and Bethel until the association purchased the present site and became permanent. Mr. Porter had on exhibition many vegetables from his 1914 garden.

Ernest Herrick and B. A. Walden were the assistants in the committee rooms and were busy answering questions besides general work.

A. E. Shirliff & Co. of South Paris had several ice cream booths along the midway.

Archie Swift of Norway had a booth on the upper side of the midway where he sold frankfurts, ice cream and soft drinks. He was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. George Swift and Ruby Swift.

The committee in charge of the drawing was Joseph Matson of Mason, Zenas Mills of Norway and Guy Curtis, timer. The grounds was a very orderly place during the fair considering the vast number of people gathered. Among those on duty were Charles E. Boobier, Horace C. Kimball, Hiram J. Wiles and L. Hall, all of Norway and on Thursday three police from Lewiston were on duty.

R. K. Morrill met with what might have proved a serious accident Wednesday night. While riding a horse in the yard, he was caught by the drag but very fortunately stopped the horses just in time to save a broken leg. He was pretty lame Wednesday night but was all right Thursday.

The large Durham oxen of R. K. Morrill which gained 7 lb. on the scale, were of authority to be the best pair of oxen in the state. They are a smooth, fine shaped, well matched and powerful yoke of oxen.

C. S. Penley of Norway this year passed his 10th year as marshal. Mr. Penley has made a good marshal and was well liked by the cattle men. He has been asked to attend the Fryeburg fair, Oct. 6, 7 and 8, to fill a similar position. Mr. Penley is 70 years of age, but appears many years younger.

The committee in charge of the cattle department was E. W. Penley of West Paris, L. E. McIntire of Bethel, Waterford and Guy Thurston of Bethel. Mr. Penley and Mr. McIntire were busy men throughout the week making arrangements for the location of cattle and answering the many thousand questions that continually arose. Mr. Thurston was not in attendance which made three men's work for two to do.

"Stubby" Jones, so called of Lewiston, worked the rube about the grounds and around the stand Wednesday, advertising the Canton fair to be held Sept. 22, 23, 24.

Dr. John Twaddle of Bethel, an old time horseman, was a visitor at the judges stand Wednesday; with him were his sons Dr. W. D. Twaddle of Fryeburg, Me., and Gard Twaddle, a medical student in Bowdoin and well known base ball star. Lisco Hall, another Bethel horse breeder, was also in the party.

Deputy Sheriff Harry D. Hastings of Bethel, kept the fair clear near the entrance during the races Wednesday, as a precaution against crooks.

Partridge of Lewiston gave a demonstration of the new touring car, the "Winton Six" on the track after the races Wednesday. The party of four people did a mile in 1:42.

One thousand automobiles is a reasonable estimate on the number of machines banked in every nook and corner about the grounds the middle day. One hundred and fifty were left on the outside nearby for several reasons.

The local eating houses were taxed to their fullest capacity Wednesday. A canvas along the line from the exhibition hall to beginning of "Fairy Boy" sets the following record for that day only. South Paris Congregational 675, Norway Congregational 650, South Paris Methodist 675, Twitchell Bros. 400, South Paris Universalist (Good Cheer) 700, Wellington Twitchell's 475. The Lewiston Eating House had 2000 regular but they reported having 7 to 1000 regular mealters and an unusually heavy run of transients. The grand total figures considerably over 3000 of this hungry well fed.

Atherton Furniture Company, Norway

One of the old-timers who was present on the opening day was S. H. Dawes, the apple king of Harrison. Mr. Dawes is now 86 years old, but no show of this kind within 50 miles can escape him. He has an orchard of about 1000 trees in the town of Harrison, and he knows the apple business from the seed to the packed box.

H. J. Pearson, State Agent for the protection of animals, was on the grounds.

Alice Barden of West Paris was one of the pianists in the Wm. J. Wheeler exhibit.

Mrs. Fred Moore was the pianist and R. O. Porter operated the piano player in the Atherton Furniture Co.'s exhibit. Other assistants were Harold Thomas, Frank Lovejoy and S. R. Conaghy.

I. R. Morrill of Brunswick was the starter at the races and he handled it in his usual good manner. He is a stickler for a fair deal to both the horsemen and the public.

This is an Agricultural Fair. Vaudeville shows have occupied but little space on its program in all the years of its existence. People who care for entertainment outside the fair have had the picture theatres at either Norway or South Paris. "The Trouble Makers" at Norway Opera House and the Annual Cattle Fair hall.

STILL MORE CATTLE.

The cattle exhibited was the largest that has been exhibited at the fair. The sheds were filled and the usual open stalls filled besides several long tie-ups which were built this year, after it was learned that this was to be a record breaker in the cattle exhibit.

There was a large lot of Holsteins by a number of exhibitors each of which stood pretty close in competition. It was said by many that the exhibit was the best in the State, far exceeding the State Fair. One exhibitor, who has been attending the different fairs said that he never ran up against such competition and he thought that no one party would carry all the ribbons.

R. H. Gates of West Paris showed his yearling thoroughbred bull, Fairy Boy. He weighs 1006 pounds.

Dr. Alfred King of South Paris had 2 Guernsey heifers a year old; 3 Jersey heifers, 1 year old; 3 Jersey calves, 1 month old Guernsey heifer; 1 Guernsey bull calf; 1 Guernsey bull calf under 6 months; 1 Jersey bull calf under 6 months; 1 2-year-old Guernsey bull; 1 Jersey 2-year-old bull; 1 Guernsey 3-year-old heifer; 1 Guernsey cow; 1 Jersey cow; a 3-year-old Jersey heifer and 2 yokes of well matched Hereford steers, giring 6 feet. Mr. Robbins has resided on his farm on Pike Hill, Norway, for 17 years and has exhibited each year at the fair. Frank Buck and Vernon Mills helped him care for his cattle.

Alexander Stearns of Paris Hill exhibited his 3-year-old Hereford oxen and 1 pair of Durham steers that girl 4 feet 1/2 in. and are less than five months old.

Frank W. Perkins & Son of South Paris had 1 grade Durham 8 months old heifer; 4 grade steers calves; 1 grade heifer calf over 6 months old and one under 6 months, a Devon cow, a grade Guernsey cow and calf. Harry Austin, Ernest Bradley and Allen Noble helped care for the cattle.

W. H. Buck of Norway Lake had 1 3-year-old Jersey heifer; 1 2-year-old Jersey heifer; 1 2-year-old grade Jersey heifer; 1 under 1 year; 1 registered Guernsey bull calf under 1 year.

W. S. G. Abbott of Norway had 1 pair Durham 2-year-old steers; 1 Holstein yearling heifer and calf 2 years old; 1 Holstein calf under 6 months; 1 grade yearling Ayrshire heifer and 1 grade Guernsey calf under 1 year.

Benjamin Tucker and son of Norway Lake exhibited 11 herd of Holstein. Among them were 1 2-year-old Holstein bull, which is the grandson of King Segis; 2 cows; 1 three-year-old; a herd of 7, 1 bull calf, and 1 heifer calf. Charles E. Bick assisted him. One of his cows gave an average of 75 pounds of milk the past week.

L. W. Whitman of South Paris had a yoke of 6 ft., 10 in. oxen.

J. H. Randall of Harrison had 1 yoke 4-year-old Durhams giring 7 feet, 1 inch.

Dogs Are Sensitive.

Dogs are sensitive creatures, even more so in their affections than many humans. Stories illustrative of this fact are so common as perhaps to have lost their interest.

A family had a collie dog many years. They had of course a much attached to the creature, but it was growing old and feeble and the children wanted a livelier playmate. So the folks bought a puppy. Immediately, the old dog began to display all his clever tricks and try in every way to attract notice. But to the creature, the puppy was the center of interest. The poor old dog at last gave up trying and began actually to pine away from sorrow and jealousy. He refused to eat and grew thin and emaciated. Finally, the people could stand it no longer and they gave the puppy away and then the old collie gradually became himself again.

Few Maine Farm Mortgaged.

A smaller percentage of the farms of Maine are mortgaged than is the case in Washington, Oregon and California, the states where almost 30,000 sons and daughters of Maine have gone to live, and, presumably, to better their financial condition. What is more, while there has been a slight increase in the number of farms in the last twenty years in Maine the percentage of increase has been greater in Oregon, almost four times greater in California.

In Maine 26.6 per cent. of the farms were mortgaged when the last statistics were gathered. At that same time 31.1 per cent. of the farms in Washington; 33.7 per cent. of the farms in Oregon and 40.5 per cent. of the farms in California, were mortgaged. Twenty years before 22.1 per cent. of the Maine farms, 26.8 per cent. of the farms in Washington, 23.4 per cent. of the farms in Oregon and 32.5 per cent. of the farms in California, were mortgaged. This seems to indicate that Maine farmers are getting ahead fully as rapidly as their brothers who work the east coast.

The man who has worked the mortgage off a farm knows what it means. If his chanches are better for getting rid of the mortgage on a Maine farm than they are of getting rid of the mortgage on the western farm, will he decide to stay in the east coast?

It is worth consideration, too, that Maine farmers are putting something back into the soil to replace what they take away. Consequently, the Maine farms are growing better year by year. On the other hand, the farmers of the three states named are spending practically nothing for fertilizer and are draining their farms all of the time. Consequently they are growing poorer year by year.

Is Beauty Only Skin Deep.

No girl need think that because she is plain she is unattractive. It is not an offer of consolation, but a glowing truth to say the girl who thinks herself unattractive that she may in reality be more charming than the girl who seems confident that she is irresistible. At least, she starts with the charm of modesty.

No girl need be ugly, no matter how plain her features may be. Manners and style can make plain features absolutely attractive.

"I am what I am," the plain girl should sensibly think of herself and then she should add "and I shall improve myself to the best of my ability."

Some girls give up in despair at the least imaginary slight or when they think they are surpassed in good looks by others. That attitude is a mistaken one and is a rebuff to advancement.

It takes more than mere beauty to attract and make a lasting impression on an intelligent person.

In Walls of Old Building.

Election Ballots of More than Half Century Ago are Found in Partridge Cooper Shop.

Donald Partridge hands us a couple of stained election ballots found in the walls of the Samuel Partridge cooper shop, now being torn down at Norway Lake. One ballot reads:
For Governor—Israel Washburn, Jr.
For Senators—John P. Hubbard of Hiram, Richard P. Johnson of Hartford.
For Clerk of Courts—Sidney Perham of Woodstock.
County Attorney—William W. Bolster of Dixfield.
For County Commissioner—Charles Nutter of Stow.
For County Treasurer—William A. Pidgin of Paris.
For Representative—Sumner Burnham.
Of the men whose names appear on this ballot, only one is now alive, William A. Pidgin. He was then connected with the Oxford Democrat, but for many years has been business manager of the Lewiston Journal.
By consulting the Maine Register and the Norway Town History, we find that Washburn was the Republican candidate for Governor of Maine in 1860 and 1861, and that Sumner Burnham was elected representative to the Legislature from Norway in 1861. This ballot thus seems to be the Republican ballot of 1861.
The other ballot reads:
For Selectmen, Assessors, and Overseers of the Poor—Uriah H. Upton, Granville L. Reed, Simeon Stevens.
For Town Treasurer—Samuel Cobb.
For Superintending School Committee—Benj. H. Noble.
For Town Agent—Sumner Burnham.
None of the men named on this ballot are now alive. Consequently, the Norway Town History shows this to have been the straight Republican ticket at the Norway town election in the spring of 1862.
Donald Partridge, who says that he intends to preserve these interesting relics, is a recent graduate of Bates College, and is a grandson of Samuel Partridge, who, for many years, made barrels in the old shop where the ballots were accidentally hidden probably, for 52 years.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. HODGDON, ME.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I any better unless I could not sleep, and I thought I never would get any better unless I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Me.
2. CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. ROSA SINS, 16 Winona St., Charlotte, N. C.
3. HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. ADA WILZ, 190 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.
4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A. GRISWOLD, 2300 Blk. East William Street, Decatur, Ill.
5. CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Av., Cleveland, O.

WHY WEAK LUNGS?

The toll of tuberculosis is claiming more than 350 victims every day in the United States, yet few realize their grave condition until the critical period arrives.
Overwork, worry, weakness after sickness, catarrh, bronchitis, tender throats—all exert the weakening influence that invites consumption.
To guard against consumption, thousands of people take Scott's Emulsion after meals because its rich medicinal nourishment strengthens the lungs, puts vigor in the blood, and upbuilds strength to resist tuberculosis. Scott's Emulsion is nature's strength-builder. Refuse substitutes.

In Price, Size, Weight and Upkeep

The new HUDSON Six-40 is as large a car as there is any real reason for having. The wheel-base is 123 inches. There are seats for seven, with the two which disappear. There is ample room for seven.

Over-weight means cheap materials or out-of-date designing. It adds immensely to tire cost, but nothing to staunchness. HUDSON engineers, in this new Six-40, have cut out 1,000 pounds of excess—the weight of a car-full of people. Yet there never was a sturdier car.

Heavy operative cost means over-weight combined with an old-type motor. In the HUDSON Six-40, a new-type motor reduces this 30 per cent.

Rebel at Over-Price

This new HUDSON Six-40—today's finest example of a quality Six—sells for $1,550, f. o. b. Detroit. Three years ago the lowest-priced Six cost twice that.

See what this HUDSON price buys—what fine engineering, what beauty, what comfort, what up-to-date equipment. No car of the new season offers greater attractions.

And this is Howard E. Coffin's best—the finest HUDSON product. The Hudson corps of 48 engineers has spent four years in perfecting it. They have added 31 refinements in this model for 1915.

This we consider the model car. All the advances in motor cars are tending toward these standards. It means lightness, economy; modest, but ample size and power. It means new beauty, new comfort, new convenience.

Come see it, if only to keep in touch with the changing ideals in cars.

Grace B. Bicknell
Returns from Europe.

In Bamberg When War was Declared; Returned to Munich, and Holland, and then to Quebec to the Virginian.

Grace B. Bicknell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Bicknell, who has been spending the summer in Europe, returned home on the early train from Montreal, Saturday morning, for a few days' visit.

At the time of the declaration of war, on Aug. 1st, Miss Bicknell, who, on her European trip, was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Eisenwinter of Waterbury, Conn., were in the small town of Bamberg, Germany. Mr. Eisenwinter is consulting engineer of the American Brass Co. At that time there were ten tourists located there and they all took the last train which left that station for Munich in Southern Germany, where an American Consul is located.

Miss Bicknell left Munich, Aug. 25, and went to Rotterdam, Holland. From there she went by boat to Liverpool and secured passage on the Virginia leaving there Sept. 4, and arrived in Quebec, Friday night, Sept. 11. The trip across the Atlantic was made on schedule time and was the first trip to be made on the northern route through the Straits of Belle Isle. At night the windows of the ship were darkened with black paper and canvas so from outward appearances the ship was dark except a light before and aft, for fear of meeting German cruisers. While just outside of Labrador several huge ice-burges were passed which were beautiful sights, glistening in the clear bright sunlight of a September day.

In Germany there were about 1800 Americans at the time the war broke out. The German people did all that was within their power to assist the Americans. At Munich 10 special trains were made up for Americans. The Mayor of the city accompanied by his young daughter came to the station to see the Americans off and the children presented the tourists with flowers.

Among other very interesting incidents which Miss Bicknell relates was the story of a gentleman who was purchasing a ticket at the station at the same time she was getting hers for the Virginia. This man remarked that he wanted a ticket for the Teutonic and said that that was the third ticket he had purchased. The Teutonic was to sail the 6th, and as Miss Bicknell left the day before she learned that the Teutonic had been called into service by the government and would not sail, hence a fourth ticket.

Throughout the whole country prevails a gloom that is felt by everyone, and scenes are witnessed on all sides and a sadness permeates the air. On one side were seven sons all German officers leaving home and friends for the war, and on the other a father and son parting for service while the mother was to serve as a Red Cross nurse. At another point enroute were a thousand French soldiers in red trousers and red caps, taken prisoners, a sad but conspicuous sight.

All along the route were seen the mobilizing of regiments and the preparations for war. Many of the soldiers in various places carried bouquets of flowers in their bayonets.

While Miss Bicknell was in Munich news reached there of the death of the Crown Prince of Bavaria and suddenly the streets were streaming and flags appeared as one huge mass. Throughout the trip the favorite song, "The Watch on the Rhine" and other familiar National airs were heard continually.

Miss Bicknell and party visited all the places which they planned except the Bavarian Alps, the Black Forests and the city of Paris. They left Berlin three days earlier than they had planned and aside from its taking twice as long to travel on the railroads they fortunately met with very little difficulty. The ship Virginia was to return to Liverpool with Canadian reserves.

Give it Up. Let George Do it.

Editor Advertiser, Norway, Me.
Dear Sir:—Since you have been a resident of this place for very many years, and I only for one year, it seems reasonable to ask you for enlightenment on the following point:

After an absence of about a month, in camp on shore of Lake Umbagog, why is it that Norway seems so good to come back to?

The bass seem to bite better there. The scenery there is reputed to be much better. The weather there was almost uniformly fine. The natives were extremely kind and hospitable. The motor launch behaved, and the engine would start even after lying out uncovered all through a rainy night.

Here, the public launches run no longer, and I have no private one. It was raining when we got back. They have cut down a fine old elm tree. The streets are pretty much as usual, and the sidewalks are even worse, being in a state of more or less transition. Here it has been consistently cold for the first few days after our return, and we have not yet been able to show our guests a distinct glimpse of our boasted White Mountains. Hugh Pendexter wasn't here. We got back at the beginning of the month, when all the bills were due.

And yet—Why is it? Norway surely did feel like home, and did seem good, and smell good, and feel good. It was worth being away for a month for the pleasure of coming back again. There seems no purely logical reason for it on the surface; but you, as an old-timer, or some of your old-time readers perhaps know all about it and will tell!

Yours very truly,
TALBOT MUNDY.

Sept. 11th, 1914.

There is no better way of building up our town than giving our home business men our entire and exclusive patronage. The more we help each other the more we help the town.

A string of gold beads was stolen from the home of George W. Horne, at Auburn sometime Friday afternoon, when a burglar gained entrance to the Horne home while everyone was away and thoroughly ransacked the house. The thief or thieves entered the house by the use of a skeleton key. The outside door was open but the door from the back hall to the kitchen was locked when Mrs. Horne left the house shortly after 1 o'clock. When she returned home at 4 o'clock, Mrs. Horne noticed that the shades in the den window had been tampered with. A hurried investigation disclosed the fact that the desks and bureaus in the house had been opened by someone in search of money and valuables.

New Plant in Operation.

"The Shoe Factory" of Sept. 10th says the following about Norway: The big new plant here is now under full operation, being run by the Carroll, Peabody, Jellerson Shoe Co., Inc. The concern has been here only a short time but the business has increased every week. They think they can make their line of goods much better in this town than in Haverhill, where they were formerly located. They are putting in the material that the trade demands and there is very little doubt that they are now building a shoe practically ahead of any other similar shoe in New England or elsewhere. One grade upper, lining, insole and outsole, in fact, one grade of everything so far as possible is used and it looks as though the system was a success. Specializing in this way, they are able to keep down unnecessary expense as well as simplify the production, making the shoes more substantial and cheaper. They even go so far as to have only one tip perforation. There are two different styles of bottom finish, and of course they have to use two different styles of heels and one or two other features like that, but at the same time, they are trying to make everything as simplified as possible so that buyers will get the benefit of this most up-to-date method of getting out women's shoes.

This factory has an easy capacity of 3500 pairs per day. The concern is not using all the plant at the present time. This concern, together with its growing business, may be said to be the outcome of the old Raymond Shoe Co. of Haverhill and the three men at the head are all experts in their particular line of the business. Mr. Carroll is the shoemaker of the firm and a well known expert, as he has been superintendent of many large shoe factories, one being the big Springfield, Me., plant of the Sears Roebuck Co. Mr. Peabody is the office man and has had long experience in this particular department. Mr. Jellerson, who sells the goods, is said to be one of the ablest salesmen in the trade in any part of the United States.

This concern, while starting small, has never made less than 600 pairs per day, and a feature of the manufacturing in this town is their ability to get the shoes out within the most reasonable time. It may be of interest to visitors to know that they have what might be called a fourteen day sheet or system. By this is meant that this factory allows just fourteen days from the time the cutters get the tags until the shoes go out of the packing room. This is a most important feature because quick delivery means much in the shoe business today.

All McKay shoes are made here and it is the ambition of the concern to fill this whole factory. They expect to do this in the near future. The plant may be said to consist of two factories, which are connected and if they use the total amount of floor space they can have one factory for the welts, if they wish to make that line, and one factory for the McKays which they are now making.

THE SOIL—
PLUS THE BANK—

The soil and the Bank are strong factors of success in this community. The soil is the means of bringing the world's money to us, and the Bank offers the best way of taking care of that money and making it do the most good.

It pays the farmer to have a good understanding with his Bank. There is no one in the community who is more anxious to have him succeed, and no one who can aid him more substantially in his efforts. The farmer who deposits his money in the Bank and pays his bills by check thus establishing a credit with the Bank is given preference over non-depositors when it is necessary for him to borrow money.

At the Chapman Farm.
The children, grandchildren, great grandchild and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson L. Chapman gathered around them at their home at Pine Grove Farm on Sunday, Sept. 6, as they all enjoy doing. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman are both getting well along in years. Mr. Chapman is 81 years of age, while his good wife is 77. We hope they will both live to see a good many more years. A beautiful dinner gathered fresh from the farm garden was served which was enjoyed by all, especially by the city folks. BETHEL.

Mrs. Chapman's Story.
Mrs. William Rogers Chapman, wife of the director of the Maine Musical Festival, returned from Europe, was in Bethel, Germany, attending a performance of "The Flying Dutchman," in company with Madame Schumann-Heink when the war was declared. With Mrs. Chapman was Julia Edward Noyes of Portland, and Mrs. Chapman gives the following graphic account of their flight from Germany.

We said goodbye to dear Madame also, but remained until the close of the opera, and then we fled, really ran down the boulevard to our hotel, took our bags and were on the 11.20 train for Nuremberg, to fly to London next day. While we were in that music hall listening to that wondrous music, Germany had declared war with Russia. In those few hours all was changed. The streets were alive with soldiers and people, boys and girls marching and singing their national anthems and our hearts were sad as we left Bethel. How can I describe that dreadful Sunday, August 2, and the trip from Nuremberg to London, which took us 54 hours. Three times we were stopped and our baggage was examined—even our persons—for letters or papers. The officers were so suspicious and afraid of spies!

As we passed from Frankfurt to Cologne via Coblenz, we saw many scenes of parting, as the soldiers left their wives and sweethearts, sons, their mothers, brothers their sisters, and the crowds and confusion at the stations was beyond description. At Cologne we heard of the alarm over spies and that one had been shot at the station, from train preceding ours. We crossed the bridge with all the windows closed, and soldiers on the train, and were told, for our comfort, that they feared a bomb would be thrown from the train to wreck the bridge. Several bridges had been mined and were ready for the word to blow them up.

These tales make travelling such a joy! We sat for nearly three hours on our bags, in the hot sun at Frankfurt, trying to get on some train to Holland. Finally we were put on what was supposed to be a through train, only to be ordered out that no trains would cross the frontier, at 1.30 a. m. After a thorough examination of all our belongings, we were told that no train would cross the frontier, but at 6 a. m. we could get an electric car to take us around another way. We could wait where we pleased.

The station was small and there was not even a place to sit down. We had English and French gold, also American dollars, but our German gold was exhausted, and they laughed at any other. Through the kindness of an Austrian musician, who was in our compartment on the train and understood our distress, we were supplied and assisted until we all reached London and repaid him in English gold. He showed us a place of refuge three miles out of Cologne, to which we walked, a lovely summer hotel called "Maylawn," where we were kindly treated, and at 3 a. m. had something to eat and drink, after all day on the train with only an omelette and a sandwich. We tried to sleep, just as the day was breaking, and rested a few hours. Then took the electric car and rode to the frontier, where we were again examined. We walked across the frontier and were again examined, there took a carriage for three miles more to the railroad station at Nijmegen, where we took a train for the Hook of Holland.

Soldiers everywhere! Crowds of people, confusion and disorder! We were but atoms in a mourning mass of humanity, but we went with the crowd, were literally pushed through the gates, and found ourselves the last ones allowed to pass on the already over-crowded boat for the English shores.

Two hundred passengers were left behind to wait 24 hours more! The rain was pouring down, the decks were so crowded we could not move. We had tried for sleeping accommodations as we had no wraps or suitable protection from cold. The situation was desperate. Many rolled themselves in blankets and robes and laid on the decks. We finally secured three places on the very lowest deck, but we were thankful to be anywhere away from the crowd. Next day the words "fare you from the maddening crowd," appeal to us as at this time. In the morning we sailed into the port of Harwich, through the channel with men of war and torpedo boats on either side, their guns all pointing towards us. It was easy to imagine what would have happened had a German ship appeared. And we looked up at the Union Jack that floated over our heads and thanked God for England and the protection of her flag, next best to our own beloved Stars and Stripes.
